The Presidents Report

We are almost at the end of another financial year when we hold an AGM in which we review how we are tracking (get it!) and bid farewell to a couple of diligent committee members, but welcome some new (old?) faces to the committee for the year ahead. Trish (Treasurer) and Colin (Membership officer) are both taking a break from the committee and we thank them for the wonderful jobs they have each done. Our auditor was particularly impressed with the manner in which the financial records have been kept and presented to him for auditing purposes. Well done Trish. Please make an effort to attend the AGM. It is normally a pretty quick meeting followed by a bit of light entertainment. After the AGM we will take a look back at the history of local icon "Lynn Mall - the 1st American style shopping centre to come to New Zealand" along with a little observation quiz. In contrast, with so many avid travellers in our club, we are sure many of you have a funny/memorial or disaster tale to share. We encourage to you come along with one of each.

Ever fancied being an "Ambassador"? Sounds a pretty fancy job title! Later in the magazine more detail is available about the volunteer task of being a Kauri die back ambassador whose role is to raise awareness about the disease and help educate people on how they can stop it spreading by using the cleaning stations at track entrances. There are so many ways in which we can give back to our community/environment. Our last guest speaker Natalie was from the Whau River Catchment Trust. They too are always keen to hear from volunteers to help with their cause. Check them out too. http://www.whauriver.org.nz/the-friends-of-the-whau-inc

With snail mail post on the decline the cost of sending items rises proportionately. Currently it costs our club $6 per year to post out FME bulletins to members. We do our best to counter that by handing out as many as we can in person at club nights and on tramps. I find this magazine very informative and a great read, but not everyone does, so in the interests of not wasting valuable resources, rather than asking who does not want this magazine, we are trying a different tact by asking that if you DO want to continue to receive this magazine to let Trish know so you can be kept on the mailing list via waitakereforever@gmail.com.

As you are likely to be aware, our national body the Federated Mountain Club Association, which we are a member of, has raised its fees by $5 resulting in our club paying $15 per person per annum to them. While FMC do a good job and we don't begrudge their need for funding, it is a matter we will need to look at as a club. This means a significant percentage of what we charge our members ($25 ordinary membership), goes to FMC leaving us only $10 per person to run our own club. In addition, there are an increasing number of our members entitled to only pay the veteran sub of $15, resulting in 100% of their sub going straight to FMC. This matter will be discussed at the upcoming AGM.

Many of us have enjoyed walking the 9 Great Walks dotted around New Zealand. I heard an article on the radio the other day stating there was going to be a price hike. Get it – price hike... © Ohhh never mind, I'll leave the jokes up to Colin.

Happy tramping!

Peter

Club Night - AGM 2017

7.30pm Kelston Community Centre Cnr Great North Road & Awaroa Road

It's that time of the year again when we can have our say and nominate great people to represent the club on the committee. We have sufficient nominations for our committee, so don't fear coming along if you think it might result in you being coerced onto the committee. After the AGM we will take a trip down memory lane and watch a DVD on the opening of Lynmall, which is now more than 50 years old. With many of our members being long term West Auckland residents, I'm sure it will be fun remembering how things looked in the 60's. Also with many intrepid travellers in our club we are keen to hear of your funny, scary or horror stories. Think of one of each and bring them along to share verbally.

"Anawhata to Kuataika Stream, then following the stream down to Pareoha Bay.

This tramp is suitable for experienced trampers or fit people who like a bit of a challenge. Pareoha Bay (not to be confused with Parera Bay) is rugged and wild and marvellous. The tramp takes about 5 hours. It's best to wear long trousers to prevent your legs getting cut and scratched from the scrub."

Opanuku Stream to the coast. You will be pleasantly surprised by how much off street walking there is on these tracks. We will see countryside, bush, parks, rivers, wetlands and enjoy amazing city and harbour views on the way. This is a lovely walk in the park and is approximately 16 kms or about five or six hours (including stops), the tracks are easy walking and the gradient is moderate. (If you are interested in doing a part of the walk only, please contact the leader.)

We will need to organise a car shuttle back to our cars.

Club Night - McNeil River Bear Sanctuary

Another very interesting talk by Geoff Glover from Manukau Tramping Club who has recently been to the McNeil River State Game Sanctuary, just north of Katmai National Park and Preserve on the Alaska Peninsula and 250 miles southwest of Anchorage, protects the world's largest concentration of brown bears. The sanctuary protects about 200 square miles of wildlife habitat, and it's not uncommon for 20 or more brown bears to feed together at McNeil River Falls; up to 74 have been spotted there at one time.

Trip Reports

Piha South 5 March Leader John Miller

Ten of us met at Glen Eden then travelled out to Piha. It was a fine day but a bit windy. We explored the area around The Gap, firstly climbing up onto Camel Rock. There were great views from there. Then we went up the other side of The Gap and, with a bit of bush bashing, worked our way along the cliff tops. Coming back we had lunch at The Blowhole, a place new to some of the party. Then back to the start.

Present were: Colin, Craig, Dave, Heather, John, Jonathan, Louis S, Lynn, Lynne and Sarah.

Gibbs Farm, Kaipara Harbour 28 April Leader Pam Goldie

A big thank you to Alan Gibbs for allowing us to view the stunning art sculptures at Gibbs Farm.

The weather on the day was amazing, the harbour was sparkling and the farm looked clean, fresh and well prepared for our visit. We are so lucky to have access to Gibbs Farm, the largest outdoor sculpture park in New Zealand. The artworks are truly impressive and blend into the landscape. The animals and birds are lucky to live at Gibbs Farm. We saw sheep, bison, giraffes, zebras and ostriches and the shoreline was teaming with birdlife. Some of the giraffes came from Orana Wildlife Park in Christchurch, to their now forever home at Gibbs Farm. Lucky giraffes they look so happy and graceful. Thank you so much to the sixteen people who came to share in this special day.

Waitakere Dam 30 April Leader Dave Spiers

At first the idea of a tramp this last Sunday in April seemed absolute madness! Light rain swept out of the sky, the Waitakere Ranges were lost in the mist, all was wet and unfriendly, even for a late start.

I cruised up to the Glen Eden meeting point, confident that there would be no one there and I could retreat back to bed with a good book for the rest of the day.

But, bugger! Already waiting there were stalwart regulars Sandra and Val, John and Lynne. Don't be a wuss said Sandra, not for the first time. Cheerful nurse Liana turned up, for her 4th trip, though still not a member.

At the top of Christian Road, more folk were waiting. Big John and "Goatcheese John" Walter from Taupaki, who wasn't going to risk carpooling from Glen Eden and being left behind again.....

Here for the first time were Erin and Michelle too. Counting me, 12 people in all, including two others who I forget, sorry!

So! An immediate detour on the small loop track to inspect the most easily accessible large Kauri tree in the Waitaks. Wow! Then with light hearts we skip up the road past the filter station, the rain has stopped!

A trudge and slide up the slushy water eroded track to the Scenic Drive. After a wait for the newbies, on to the slushy water eroded Anderson Track, morning tea taken at the junction not far along.

The dam railway lines gained after a stream crossing and more mud, then a wonderful view of the waterfall below the Waitakere Dam.

Under the boarded waterfall, running strongly and noisily to the valley below, through the tunnel, up the steps and onto the dam, across and it's lunchtime. Slowly slowly, it's a very short walk, can't finish too soon.....and would you believe, the sun is out!

After a long lunch, an easy walk up the sealed mile long driveway, then down the Scenic Drive for a bit, and on to the Filter Track.

This is a little gem of a track. Winds through some very nice bush, wonderful stands of Kauri and Rimu. A great view of Auckland City from the top soon after you get started. Then it's very steep and muddy, much potential for getting mud on the rear end, which several in the party did.

But after only 45 minutes or so you pop out on the filter station drive, near the building. Well, a lot longer than 45 minutes for some people, Val played Mother Hen for the slow ones.

So, all done and dusted, except for the few stalwart regulars and latte drinkers who always get snared by the Swanson Station caff......

A relaxed and social day with mild exercise to boot, yeah I guess it beat staying in bed with a book.

Ian Wells/Cutty Grass 07 May Leader Trish Hopkins

I was looking forward to this walk as I had never done the whole of Ian Wells track. I used to do a trap line that ran from the Alpine hut down Remus Roe Stream, up the top end of Ian Wells to Cutty Grass and back to the hut car park but the necessity of doing the Piha Road end of Ian Wells never presented itself. I had been to the old dam but didn't venture up the track.

When asked to lead a tramp in May I decided it was a good opportunity to explore the complete track with some good company. Eleven turned up which quite surprised me considering my reputation (well earned I guess) of liking a speedy tramp with minimal rest stops. So off we tootled up Piha Road and as we Jan had never seen the Auxiliary Dam we stopped there so she could take photos of the fabulous graffiti.

After that we walked Ian Wells and although it was muddy as I had heard it wasn't any worse than a lot of good old Waitakere tracks. I was actually quite pleased to be able to point out where the trap line was as we did the first stream crossing and felt quite clever being able to remember where to cross again to complete the other half of Ian Wells to get to Cutty Grass. After all I stopped doing this track a couple of years ago

We had morning tea at the Alpine Club hut then had a look at the track behind the hut, topped up our water and returned to the cars. The return trip seemed sooo much different to the tramp there. A wander around where the stream crossing meets the trap line, reminded me just how much hard work was involved with doing that job. The people like Leonie from ATC who first took me on this track and who have done this for years are amazing.

An interesting day with a nice diversion. Thanks Christine, Peter S, Louis A, Peter T, Jill D, Annette, Val, Jan, Sandra, Colin and MEEEE!

Advance Notices

Dome Valley - Sunday 2 July.

Out of Auckland tramping - Paul Williams is organizing another tramp in Dome Valley.

It will mean an earlier start from Glen Eden and take about as long to get to Warkworth as it usually does to drive through New Lynn!

Plan ahead if you're keen enough and details will be in next months magazine.

Items of Interest

Kauri Dieback prevention appeal -

Our native kauri trees are dying from kauri dieback disease and the only way to prevent the spread of this disease is by cleaning our shoes and equipment before and after visiting kauri forest. Unfortunately compliance with our cleaning stations is still low, and we want to spread the word and help increase this, and increase our trees' chances. We have ambassadors stationed at some of our high use stations in the Waitakere Ranges Regional Park and they have spoken to thousands of visitors to raise awareness and wish to extend this programme and have volunteers helping out at those stations, and others around Auckland, on upcoming holiday weekends – Queen's Birthday (3-5 June) and Labour weekend (21-23 October).

It would involve talking to visitors about kauri dieback disease and how it's spread, how they can help and perhaps demonstrating cleaning methods on the station if necessary. If you have a few hours spare on one of those weekends, please let us know. We will set you up with everything you need, including some identification as a volunteer for the kauri dieback project, some collateral to distribute and all the information you will need to answer queries. We will also hold a short health and safety briefing for those able to help out.

The slots would be about three hours long, (in the morning, or afternoon), from approximately 9.30am-12.30pm and then another slot 1pm – 4pm. We would like to have people at the following stations in the Waitakere Ranges: Fairy Falls, Glen Esk, Kakamatua, Cascades, and Karamatura; some of our local west parks with cleaning stations and at some of our North Shore parks with cleaning stations (e.g. Le Roys Bush).

Please let me know if you are able to help, when you are free (including day and time), where you would prefer to volunteer, and if you would like to bring someone else with you on the day.

It can be weather dependent. If it is hosing down with rain for instance and you'd rather not be out there, just let us know, and we can swap your day.
